The 62nd Annual SPDDS Midwinter Meeting

On behalf of the 2016 Saint Paul District Midwinter Meeting Planning Committee, I'd like to personally welcome you to our 62nd Midwinter Meeting. For the third consecutive year we are hosting the meeting at the Anderson Student Center on the campus of St. Thomas University.

Due to an overwhelmingly positive response from last year's attendees, the format of speakers remains the same with three engaging and leading edge speakers each providing two talks on topics that will appeal to every member of your office's team. Beyond the excellent presentations, the Midwinter Meeting is always a great opportunity to meet with friends, network with colleagues, and enjoy a delicious meal!

Thank you so much for your continued support of the St. Paul District, and I truly look forward to seeing you at the 2016 Midwinter Meeting!

David Bates, DDS
SPDDS Midwinter Committee Chair

Simple & Profitable Implant
Treatment: The TEAM Approach

For many clinicians and their patients, dental implants are quickly becoming the preferred treatment of choice for tooth replacement. This program will discuss the role of implant design, biomechanics, and abutment options for achieving optimal results. The importance of simplicity and reliability for successful long-term outcomes will also be presented.

Dr. Alan Scott Douglas is a 1989 graduate of the UT Dental School at San Antonio. For the past 20 years he has been the program director of the AEGD residency program at the VA hospital and participates in numerous implant and dental materials studies.

The participation of this speaker has been made possible through support from DENTSPLY Implants.

“Be Calm and Carry On”: Medical
Emergencies in the Dental Office

Given an aging population that has many medical comorbidities, and the possibility of stress in the dental clinic causing a medical emergency, it is important for us to continually review our readiness to avoid emergencies and to care for our patients should a life threatening emergency occur. Since these emergencies can occur anywhere at anytime and to anyone, we all need to be prepared at all times.

Dr. Bruce Templeton is a Diplomate of the American Board of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery. He is currently chief of oral surgery and dentistry at the VA Medical Center in Minneapolis. He also holds the rank of clinical professor at the U of MN Faculty of Dentistry.

Dr. Templeton received his dental training at the University of Manitoba, Canada and his oral surgery training at the University of MN.

Working with Emotional Challenges:
The “extra” work and stress management for the health care professional

Session I: The first session will focus on helping dental professionals identify, understand, and influence those factors that contribute to challenging interactions with patients.

Session II: The second session focuses on helping dental professionals identify, understand, and influence those factors that contribute to their own challenges with the stresses of everyday personal and professional life.

Dr. Hathaway is a clinical health psychologist who has worked in the interdisciplinary settings with health care professionals for more than 30 years. She helped establish and worked in the TMD and Orofacial Interdisciplinary program at the U of MN.
